Align online training to achieve teaching goals

How did you hear about the OLC Teaching Certificate Program? A few of my friends who were educators had mentioned the Online Learning Consortium as a good starting point for online education. I contacted OLC and based on their answers to my questions decided to become a member and enroll in the program.

Why the need/interest in the OLC Teaching Certificate Program? I was new to online education, wanted to learn more for professional development and if possible, earn a certificate to document the learning applicable to immediate and future projects.

To whom and why you would recommend OLC? Attending OLC programs will be most valuable to individuals who are currently responsible for—or who anticipate becoming responsible for—overseeing and directing the mission and vision in online learning programs or centers on their campuses.

How did this program help you in your position/career? I was able to apply the principles and skills learned to the development of an actual program. I plan to continue to expand my online educational repertoire with other OLC educational offerings. The OLC program helped to re-awaken my appreciation for learning in different forms and inspired me to want to teach more.

To whom and why you would recommend the OLC Teaching Certificate Program? I would recommend the program to all individuals—beginners and more experienced individuals alike—interested in learning more about online education and how it should and could look in practice. The OLC Certificate Program introduced me to the 'behind the scenes' of online educational course development.
